R. LIVINGSTON IS NAMED HEAD OF HOSPITAL

Richard C. Livingston, New Oxford, was elected president of the Annie M. Warner hospital at the annual meeting of the board of directors held in the Musselman Annex building Friday night.

He succeeds John A. Hauser, Biglerville, who under the rules of the board limiting the presidency to two successive years, was not eligible for re-election. The directors adopted a resolution of appreciation for the services rendered the hospital by Mr. Hauser during his two years as president.

Wilbur A. Bankert, Littlestown, was elected first vice president, and Edmund W. Thomas, Gettysburg, was elected second vice president.

Henry M. Scharf and Philip M. Jones, both of Gettysburg, were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The incumbents of all positions under the jurisdiction of the directors were re-elected to their respective posts for another year.

Re-elect Directors
Prior to the election of officers the directors whose terms did not expire met as members of the hospital corporation and re-elected the eight directors whose terms expired this year.

Directors elected for a three year term expiring in 1957 were: Richard A. Brown, Edmund W. Thomas, Franklin R. Bigham, Henry M. Scharf, Dr. Frank H. Kramer, Joseph E. Codori, all of Gettysburg; Roy E. Starry, York Springs, and Mr. Livingston.

On recommendation of the executive committee of the medical staff the directors re-appointed the entire roster of physicians and dentists as members of the hospital staff for another year.

Resolutions of appreciation of the services of the medical staff, the hospital staff, the hospital auxiliary were adopted and specific resolutions complimented Administrator Doud and C. Samuel Daley, M. D., of Gettysburg, the hospital auditor, for their services during the past year.

DALEY REPORTS WARNER AUDIT TO DIRECTORS

A 14-page report was presented to directors of the Annie M. Warner Hospital during their annual meeting Friday night by C. Samuel Daley, hospital auditor. Highlights of the report follow.

The hospital admitted 3,899 patients during its fiscal year which closed May 31st 1954. It housed an average of 69 patients per day and 958 babies were born during the year. Cash income amounted to $320,800.42; was expended and $326,318.48 during the year.

Charity work was valued at $19,100.41, with other unpaid services, including hospitalization and insurance contract limitations, adding $9,856.67 bringing the total to $27,957.08. This was offset by $10,796.22 in state and $2,500 in county appropriations.

Big Business
Had the hospital been paid for all service it rendered, earned income for the year would have exceeded actual expenses by $758.00. The hospital's earned income for the year totaled $301,286.18, while actual expenses were $309,528.18.

During the fiscal year letter appeals of the hospital were responded to by more than 8,000 Adams countyans with $16,380.11 in aggregate contributions. Clerical services, postage, stationary and supplies cost $4,545.43, leaving a net of $11,834.68 to offset the deficiency of $14,660.86 in charity and unpaid services rendered by the hospital in excess of the state and county appropriations. President John Hauser emphasized the importance of the letter campaign contributions to the directors.

"This is our important money, he said. "It enables us to carry on our charity work. Not only that, it saves us from deficits. It can be said that it is these small contributions from thousands of people that keeps the hospital going."

Consistent Support
"The consistent support Adams County people have given the hospital in their response to this letter appeal definitely measures and proves that the Warner Hospital is held in high esteem and in good repute among the people it serves. This is of incalculable value in the sense that it is inspiring to the officers, directors, employees and the medical staff of the hospital," Hauser stated.

The annual report revealed that earned income this year was $8,552.39 more than in the previous fiscal year. It also disclosed that actual operating expenses increased $16,917.84.

The report gave detailed explanation of all operating, reserve and restricted funds and also gave a detailed accounting of $118,381.99 in endowment funds.

Small Endowment
"The small endowment of the Warner Hospital is the weak spot in our financial structure," President Hauser told the directors. "Our endowments totalled only $45,834.25 until we received the $75,538.74 bequest from the late Mary J. Gilmore of Carlisle a few years ago."

"In the fall the public relations committee of the hospital plans to meet with members of the Adams County Bar Association, the Adams County Bankers Association, and the Adams County Medical Society to explain in detail the capital funds structure of the hospital. This should bring to public attention the need of developing hospital endowment funds to provide reasonable income for general purposes so that hospital responsibilities to the public will not be impaired under conditions of stress."

CAMP NAWAKWA IN FULL SWING; 330 THIS WEEK

With the new section of Camp Nawakwa, Lutheran leadership training camp, near Brysonia, completing its first week of regular activities, Nawaka was well on its way today to set new enrollment records for a summer season.

In spite of the enlarged facilities, the camp director, the Rev. Reginald Deitz, said the camp is not yet able to accommodate all the Lutheran young people who would like to attend.

It is estimated that some 3,500 campers may attend sessions there this year. A proposal is being considered now to extend the camp for a week into September to accommodate more Senior High School age applicants.

330 There This Week
In the week ending today, there have been 245 Intermediate boys in the main section of the camp while 85 Junior age girls have been quartered in the "new camp on the hill." Next week another 245 Intermediate boys will occupy the old camp and 85 more Junior girls will report for the "new camp."

The new section is being used exclusively by Junior girls this season.

Dr. Dunkelberger There
Dr. Harold A. Dunkelberger of the Bible Department of Gettysburg College is a member of the staff this week and is conducting a course on "missionary heroes" for the Intermediate boys. Twenty-five cabin counselors are included in the enlarged staff for this week.

The main camp opened two weeks ago and the new section got underway for the first time on Monday.

The Intermediate boys had the Rev. Cletus Senft, Narberth, as their associate director this week. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Shekart, Columbia, are in charge of the Junior girls' camp.

Here And There News Collected At Random

One or both of the drivers are at fault in about 75 per cent of all fatal traffic accidents.

So the best advice for avoiding a traffic accident during the Fourth of July holiday, the National Safety Council says, is to think twice—once for yourself and once for the other guy.

With 40 million vehicles—and drivers—jamming the nation's highways during the three-day weekend, the chance for driver mistakes will be multiplied many times over the normal accident risk, warned Ned H. Dearborn, Council president.

"Traffic accidents don't just happen—they are caused," he said. "They are caused by human indifference, ignorance, recklessness, or lack of plain courteous and decent behavior. "A car does not go out of control until the driver loses his control over it."

In an effort to reduce the holiday toll, the Council is co-ordinating a nationwide campaign in which 160 national organizations are participating. The campaign is designed to increase public awareness of the extra holiday hazards on the highways and the extra caution needed to overcome them. It also seeks to help officials, traffic officers and safety leaders in their efforts to reduce traffic accidents over the Fourth.

The Council suggests five points for the Fourth to help balance the extra highway hazards:

1. Don't drive after drinking—even a little.
2. Cut your usual cruising speed to 10 miles an hour.
3. Double check before passing or changing lanes.
4. Don't follow the car ahead too closely.
5. Don't compete in traffic—let the other guy go first.

Guatemalan Rebels Set Up Provisional Government As War Enters Shooting Stages

By SAM SUMMERLIN
TEGUIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Anti-Communist Guatemalan rebels set up a provisional government last night amid indications the struggle for that Central American nation is becoming a hot shooting war.

Insurgent planes attacked Guatemala City and the rebel radio claimed its forces were "marching victoriously" on the capital. The Communist-supported government of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman declared, however, its troops remained in control on all fronts.

Creation of the provisional regime, headed by rebel Commandante Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, was announced in a communique by the "Liberation army." It said the government headquarters were at Chiquimula, a town of 8,843 people, 29 miles from the Honduran border.

Contradictory Dispatches
The communique said Chiquimula had been captured early yesterday. But a dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Jack Rutledge in Guatemala City said the government's latest bulletins claimed Chiquimula was still in its hands. Rutledge's dispatch passed through Guatemalan censorship and was delayed about six hours in transmission.

Rebel planes also blasted Zacapa and other government strongholds. Authoritative sources said a direct bomb hit on an ammunition dump at Zacapa knocked out the garrison there. The stepped-up air strikes led one source here to comment that "the cold war is getting hot."

Up till now, the eight-day-old struggle has been waged chiefly with propaganda weapons. Only sporadic clashes have been reported between the opposing forces.

The currants brought 35 cents a quart and the price on raspberries ranged from 35 to 45 cents a box with farmers predicting a short crop if the drought continues much longer.

There was asparagus at 35 cents a bunch but the farmers said there soon will be a short supply of that vegetable if rains do not come.

String beans and peas were offered at 20 cents a quart and 35 cents a quarter peck. The new potatoes sold for 15 and 20 cents a quart box and 30 cents a quarter peck. Sugar peas were 25 cents a quart box. New cabbage was six and seven cents a pound and red beets and onions were 10 cents a bunch.

Eggs continued at 45 cents a dozen and fryers were on sale at 55 cents a pound. Choice pieces were 75 cents a pound.

One farmer had one quart of strawberries and sold it for 50 cents. There was potato salad, home-baked bread, country butter, cut flowers and other standard items at prices that have been unchanged for weeks.

School Tax Notices Out; Head Tax On

Borough Tax Collector J. Herbert Weikert is assuring inquiring taxpayers, who are showering his office with telephone calls, that there's nothing wrong with the school tax notices he's mailing out.

It has been 15 years since the Gettysburg School District levied a per capita tax and the appearance of the $10 item on every tax card has been a surprise to some.

"Every person in Gettysburg over 21 years of age must pay the $10 head tax," Weikert pointed out. "For property owners, that amount is in addition to the 35-mill levy on real estate."

The first 1,500 of the school tax notices have been mailed and approximately 3,100 others will be put into the mails early next week. There is a two per cent abatement on school tax paid by September 30.

NORTH END FOLK HOPE TO BLOCK STATION PLANS

The possibility that residents of the Carlisle St., Lincoln Ave. and Broadway section of Gettysburg may turn to court action in an attempt to block the erection of a gasoline service station on the Huber property at Carlisle and Lincoln Ave. intersection, was developing today.

News that Charles H. Huber Jr. has been issued a permit for the erection of a service station on that property to cost $12,500 or more created quite a stir among the north end residents, particularly among those property owners closest to the Huber home, according to one of the nearby property holders.

Making Survey

A current report that another gasoline company is seeking a service station site in the same section of town has folk in that residential area further disturbed. One owner has declared his intention will not be sold for a service station.

A survey is being made to see how many north-enders will help back a move for a court injunction to bar the erection of a service station. Prompt legal action is planned and the filing of a complaint with a petition for a temporary injunction is now slated for early next week.

Attorney Charles W. Wolf, who with Attorney Donald Oyer is representing the complaining property owners, said today he will have a statement to make Monday concerning the position of the Huber neighbors who do not want to see the broad lawn, maple trees and Huber home replaced by a service station and used car lot.

IKE'S REGIME IS BRACING FOR HOUSE BATTLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration braced today for one of its stiffest tests of this congressional session—a House battle over flexible vs. high, rigid government price supports for basic crops.

The House Agriculture Committee late yesterday cleared for House action a bill that provides for a one-year extension of price props fixed at 90 per cent of parity.

The bill was ticketed for consideration either Wednesday or Thursday and administration stalwarts were expected to wage a strong fight at that time for a flexible system, ranging between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, as advocated by President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

The Senate Agriculture Committee, too, has voted for another year of rigid farm price supports in opposition to administration aims.

Parity is a legally determined standard for farm goods prices regarded as fair in relation to the cost of things farmers must buy.

Flexible Supports

Farm legislation providing for flexible supports has been on the books since 1949, but its effect has been postponed from time to time. Now, flexible props are scheduled to go into effect automatically at the end of the 1954 crop year, unless a new delay is voted or a substitute program adopted.

Eisenhower and Benson contend flexible supports would discourage surplus-producing overproduction in times of plenty, but would spur production in times of scarcity. Opponents of the flexible system say they fear it might lead to a drop in farm income.

Chairman Hope (R-Kan.) of the House Agriculture Committee said the measure approved yesterday is the "best possible bill that could be secured at this time to meet the needs of agriculture."

He forecast that the legislation—which also deals with other phases of the farm situation—will pass the House.

Just before approving the bill 26-2, the committee eliminated sections that would have kept alive rigid supports on corn and cotton two more years.

EATS POISON; CHILD EXPIRES

An 18-month old Hanover R. 3 boy died at 4:45 p.m. Friday after he had eaten ant poison at his home.

The child, John M. Kraft, Jr., was pronounced dead of cyanide poisoning at Hanover Hospital, where he was rushed by his parents.

Hospital authorities said the boy became violently ill at his home. The parents took the boy the three miles to the hospital after they were unable to make him vomit by giving him milk.

Dr. Todd Veau and Dr. Cornel Gray, of the hospital staff, attempted to revive the boy by artificial respiration and resuscitation. It was not learned how the lad obtained the poison, which was in a powder form.

Hospital attendants said that cyanide will kill within five minutes unless an antidote is successfully given.

Surviving in addition to the parents are a brother, Lynn Emory Kraft, at home; the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Kraft, York R. 1, and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Mummert, Hanover R. 3, and two great grandfathers, John A. Kraft, Spring Grove R. 1, and Moses Mummert, Menges Mills.

Funeral services Sunday at 2 p.m. at Roth's (Christ) Lutheran Church, near Spring Grove. The pastor, Rev. Earl H. Schlottbauer, will officiate. Interment in the church cemetery.

U.S. Planes Fly French Wounded

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—The U.S. Air Force, which barely two months ago rushed French fighting men to the defense of Dien Bien Phu, today began evacuating 500 of the battle's wounded back to France.

A four-engined Globemaster left Saigon with the first 100 French Union troops on the 16,000-mile air-lift, which will span two oceans and the United States before the troops are deposited in Paris about 10 days from now.

From Japan the Military Air Transport Service will finish the transfer in C119 transports touching down at Lakeland, Fla., and Westover, Mass.

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Two persons were killed and four injured when an automobile hit a utility pole along the Lincoln Highway five miles west of Lancaster early today.

The dead were Lewis Smith, Jr. 20, William Boas, 50, both of Lancaster.

CHINESE GRILL RUSSIAN OILERS

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Unofficial reports circulated today that the job of pumping a cargo of oil from the seized Russian tanker Tuapse was under way or about to be started.

Nationalist China announced last night that one of its warships had intercepted the Tuapse off Formosa Wednesday and had escorted it to the port of Kaohsiung.

Official sources refused to discuss the tanker.

Question Red Crew
Meager press reports and other unofficial sources said, however, that Nationalist intelligence officers have been questioning 40 to 50 crewmen, all of whom are Russian.

Some of the crewmen were said to have been cooperative, and some officials reportedly considered it likely that a number would ask political asylum in Formosa.

More than 20 Polish crewmen aboard the two ships seized earlier have asked asylum here.

There was speculation—but no official indication—that the Tuapse might be released if the Nationalists satisfy themselves it is owned by Russia and not Communist China.

An official correction in the English translation of last night's announcement on the Tuapse deleted a reference to the tanker being intercepted on the high seas.

Some sources said the Nationalists probably would claim soon that the vessel was in territorial waters of Formosa or some Nationalist-held island.

Jersey Governor Defends Hoffman Investigations

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Gov. Robert B. Meyner says "certain people" tried to halt his investigation of the late Harold G. Hoffman by threats, but "it didn't work."

Meyner told a news conference yesterday the "certain people" reminded him he had participated in a lease-purchase agreement for construction of an Employment Security Division building at Phillipsburg, his home town.

Mrs. Ada Leonard, daughter of Hoffman, released last Thursday night a posthumous accusation by her father that Meyner had participated in the Phillipsburg agreement for which Hoffman himself had been criticized.

Much of Meyner's discussion on the Phillipsburg agreement was off-the-record, but after the news conference he authorized publication of these remarks:

"I was hired as a lawyer to draft a lease for the Phillipsburg building. My file's there and you can look at it. It shows my dealings. There's nothing under cover. There's no doubt certain people were trying to use this incident in my law practice as a club over me. It didn't work."

List 16 Charges

In one of 16 charges drawn against Hoffman before he died June 4 he is accused of entering into leases for property and for construction of buildings without submitting the contracts to the State House Commission or the director of Purchase and Property. # BIG MONEY BILL SENT TO IKE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators working against a June 30 deadline yesterday sped the biggest money bill of the year to the White House and sent two other appropriations measures to near-final stages.

By voice vote, the Senate okayed $28,800,125,466 to run the nation's armed forces in the fiscal year beginning July 1. This completed congressional action on the mammoth defense measure, which accounts for more than half of President Eisenhower's total budget request of about $6 billion dollars.

Also by voice vote the Senators sent two House-passed bills to Senate-House conference:

1. A measure granting the Labor Department 299 million dollars and the Health-Education-Welfare Department $1,681,000,000.

2. A record $170,438,847 appropriations for District of Columbia operations next year.

Differences between the Senate and House versions are ironed out in conference committees, after which the bills are returned to each chamber for final action.

RIVER IN IOWA IS RECEDING

DES MOINES (AP)—The flooding Des Moines River continued to recede today after a night marked chiefly by a flurry of excitement when a gas main in the Raccoon River burst.

The pressure of escaping gas hurled a fountain of muddy water 75 feet high before valves were closed.

The Raccoon, also in flood, empties into the Des Moines in the southeast section of the city.

Danger of any major flooding inside the city apparently was passed. Five miles of major levees protecting 1,500 low-lying homes a business district continued to hold. The main business district was never threatened.

The Des Moines by morning had dropped nearly four feet from its record 30.2-foot peak.

Downstream, below the junction of the Des Moines and Raccoon rivers, the waters spread out across rural bottomlands. The next major city in the flood's path is Ottumwa but officials there say they feel confident their defenses can handle the crest adequately.

Security Lapses In Red China

HONG KONG (AP)—When the Chinese Communist government in Peking called for a tightening up on security, letters from people throughout China began flooding in. One letter said merchants used as wrapping paper, sheets from the report on the investigation of work in 1953 on trading regions in the central-south regions.

Another reported the doors of the conference room of the food bureau of Yung Hsing government in Hunan were constantly left open and without anybody in charge. Publications for internal use were on the tables and many of them disappeared.

The Tsinan Railway administration sold some confidential internal materials to the public as scrap a newspaper reported. Other districts were found to be employing convicts and landlords, to copy internal documents.

WANTS U.S. TO STOP FLOW OF OIL IMPORTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress got another plea this week to do something about checking the flow of oil imports.

Calling for legislation to keep the imports "within some determinable bounds," Rep. Gavin (R-Pa.) told the House:

"Unless something of this nature is done soon, we may well see the first of a series of events which will ultimately result in severe injury to the domestic oil industry. 'This first symptom could be the collapse of the industry's conservation system'."

Gavin said oil imports had jumped from 377,000 barrels a day in 1946 to more than a million barrels daily last year.

The present rate of imports, he said, "threatens to cause a situation whereby oil-producing states are faced with a choice of keeping wise conservation programs, and losing markets for their oil, or tossing such programs out the window, in order to compete with foreign oil."

Fears Chaotic Condition

He said abandonment of conservation practices "might very well result in a return to the general chaos" which prevailed before they were adopted.

The Pennsylvania asserted that all steps taken by independent producers to obtain relief from imports had failed or been only partly successful at best.

"They have tried first of all to find administrative relief," he continued. "This is apparently impossible under the trade-agreements program. That this alternative failed miserably is perhaps best seen from the fact that oil imports rose from 377,000 barrels per day in 1946 to well over a million barrels per day in 1953."

"The domestic oil industry has also sought to convince the major American oil importers of the necessity to directly reduce their imports. Only in the last month has there been any evidence what-so-ever on their part of even a recognition of the need to cut back."

SPECIALISTS AID AFGHAN LABOR RECLAIM EARTH

KANDAHAR, Afghanistan (AP)—American crews are directing Afghan workers completing the first phases of two huge projects to restore farms Ghengis Kahn and his raiders destroyed.

Nomads, roaming the desert for centuries have stumbled over irrigation works where the Mongol warriors wiped out the old civilization. Now two new lakes have appeared in the southern Afghan desert. One is behind the Arghandab River dam. The other is formed by a 321-foot earth-fill dam on the Helmand River. Engineers estimate the two dams will provide water to irrigate 750,000 acres, eventually.

Ghost Towns
There are scores of ruined towns in the area, deserted hundreds of years ago when the water was cut off.

About 4,400 Afghan workers were taught their jobs by 135 Americans, 20 Filipino and 32 Italian specialists. It was eight years ago that the first earth-moving machines roared into Kandahar. They frightened turbaned Afghans from their mud-walled houses. At first the nomads were awed, but they soon abandoned their camels to learn how to run the mechanical "moters." Young men operated cranes, steam shovels and the huge earth movers. They learned American slang and habits. They used "okay" and their own coined "nokay" in talk with Americans and with each other.

Caps Replace Turbans

At first they had trouble adapting loose turbans and wide-legged pantaloons to work around machinery and trucks. Today, overalls are as common in Kandahar as in Keokuk, Iowa. Even the turbans have been abandoned reluctantly by many workers giving way to caps.

There has been a lull in operations while Afghan officials seek a loan of about 21 million dollars from the Import Export Bank. The work so far has cost 17 million dollars. Responsibility for further development has been taken over by an Afghan agency. The United States has loaned technicians and specialists as advisors.

The new agency's authority extends over 3 degrees of latitude and 4 1/2 degrees of longitude—a vast wasteland it hopes will become Afghanistan's greatest garden spot.

The newspaper apologized on the front page, explaining the error was a typographical mistake.

Littlestown 140 CHILDREN TAKING PART IN "REC" PROGRAM

Great interest has been shown by the children of the community in the annual summer recreation program which opened this week on the playground. Approximately 80 younger boys and girls, ages four to ten, are attending the morning sessions each day from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. About 60 older children, ages ten and up, are participating in the afternoon activities, 1:30 to 4 o'clock. Mrs. Kay Crouse Sentez and Clayton L. Evans are the program supervisors.

During the last week, group games have been played and baseball and softball teams have been organized in the morning. The baseball league has played one game and the softball team also plays during the afternoon. The young children made macaroni necklaces and bracelets, and painted them; masks out of paper bags; Roman sandals from cardboard and ribbon. William Reinman assisted Mrs. Sentez during the morning.

Activities during the afternoon included making plaster of paris molds. Some molds were donated for playground use by Lynton Schroll, Richard Maitland and Marianne Rudisill. Molds of Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer, Donald Duck, farmer and daughter, squirrel and bull were used. Chinese checker and checker tournaments are being conducted. Woodrow Bowman is now leading in the checker tournament.

A wacky hat show will be featured next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the playground. Boys and girls are urged to enter the show competition and parents and friends are invited to attend. Details concerning the show will be announced later. The summer recreation program is sponsored by the Littlestown Borough School Board.

Remington Fails In Bid For Parole

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department says William W. Remington, former Commerce Department economist serving time for perjury, has failed in a bid for parole from the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa.

The Department said yesterday Remington, 36, applied for a parole April 25, shortly after he completed the first year of a three-year prison term imposed after he was convicted in New York of lying when he denied knowing of a Young Communist League unit at Dartmouth in the 1930s.

The parole application was turned down June 17, the department said.

9 Alleged Reds Ask For Acquittal

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Nine alleged Philadelphia area Communist leaders on trial for conspiracy in federal court have asked through counsel for a judgment of acquittal. Thomas D. McBride, chief defense counsel, filed the motion yesterday and asked in a second petition that substantial parts of the prosecution testimony be stricken from the record.

The trial of the nine, charged with conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the U. S. government by force and violence, was recessed last week until July 12 following the government's presentation of its case.

NO AGREEMENT IN RR STRIKE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Representatives of the Harrisburg Railways Co. and its striking employees still had not reached any wage agreement today to settle the strike which has left the capital city without bus service for nine weeks. Union and company officials left the conference table yesterday after two days of discussions.

The joint negotiations will be resumed Tuesday with state and federal mediators sitting in.

Deny Union
The company rejected a union proposal for a 20-cent hourly wage increase and stuck to its offer of an eight-cent hourly boost above the present $1.58.

Company labor advisor H. R. Cowan, said "we have a better idea now what the union wants and what it might settle for."

But he added: "As of tonight, we were unable to find an area with respect to wages."

I wonder if anyone is ever too busy to note the passing of the years. Perhaps an Einstein. As for a woman, her mirror is always presenting her with the cruel evidence that time flies.

Getting the most out of the years after sixty-five differs with the individual. I am eighty-one years old, but I write a book every year. Presently I shall begin my forty-first. I read inordinately, I listen to the radio, I gaze on television. I go to the movies and the theater. I entertain and am entertained. I do numberless crossword puzzles.

Here are three rules for inducing long life:

Identify one's self with an unpopular reform. My unpopular reform was equal suffrage. It kept me busy reading and studying, writing and speaking. It brought me in contact with hundreds of able and noble women. The result is that I have a profound admiration for my sex. When thirty-four years ago, I was enfranchised, something very precious — that struggled-dropped out of my life. How I pity the young women of today who have no battle which unites them must fight.

The second rule is to collect something, anything from Sandwhich glass to portrait miniatures. My third rule is to try to keep informed on public affairs — town or city; state, nation, world.

She was correspondent for various magazines in France, England and Italy, was president of the Authors Guild of America and of the Authors' League of America. Her numerous novels are sympathetic studies of family relations. She was awarded the O. Henry memorial prize for the best short story of 1924. ## State To Dispense Preventive Service

TUNKHANNOCK, Pa. (AP)—Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst warned Pennsylvania poultrymen today that the new poultry disease laboratory here will dispense "preventative and not salvage services."

"You cannot sit back until the disease strikes and then expect the laboratory to pull you out of the fire," Horst told those attending the dedication of the disease diagnostic center for use of poultry raisers in Wyoming and surrounding counties.

The secretary stressed the importance of poultrymen keeping accurate records on their birds as a necessary for the efficient operation of the laboratory.

17 Projects Have Been Built By State

HARRISBURG (AP) — Seventeen construction projects have been completed by the State Highway and Bridge Authority since its inception five years ago.

The projects, a semi-annual report showed, cost nearly 26 million dollars with 15½ millions more being spent on 16 additional projects now sufficiently completed to be open to traffic.

Five projects were completed in the six-month period ending last May 31. Under construction in the same period were 62 million dollars worth of road projects.

The Authority is a borrow-and-build agency set up by the 1949 legislature which builds road projects asked by the State Highways Department.

Full Gallon Of Blood Given By Three Countians: Two eight-time donors who by that act entered the mythical "Gallon Club" of blood donors headed a list of 1222 countians who gave blood this afternoon at the Red Cross blood donor center at Christ Lutheran Church.

The two, Radford H. Lippy, chairman of the blood donor service for Adams, county, and Mrs. Madeline Kings, McKnightstown, were the second and third countians to give a gallon of blood. Hugh C. McIlhenny, Harrisburg road, gave his eighth donation last month.

There were also two seventh-time donors today, with Ernest D. Bushman, Ardenstville merchant and business, and John H. Basehore, local justice of the peace and county Republican chairman, both giving their seventh pint of blood.

The 122 pints of blood today brought to 2,025 the number of pints given so far by countians.

Honored By FCB On Anniversary:
Mrs. Harry Cunningham, South
Washington street, who celebrated her 50th wedding anniversary today, was guest of honor at a party by the Queen of Peace Council of the Pennsylvania Catholic Beneficial
League, held at St. Francis Xavier School.

Following a supper at which a feature was a four-tier wedding cake, a large gold crucifix was presented to Mrs. Cunningham by Vice President Mary Ramer for the club. A number of gifts were presented by members and the Rev. Fr. Mark E.
Stock, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, spoke. The committee in charge of the affair included Mrs. Ralph Menche, presi-

Commission And Wedding Are Delayed By Back Injury: Because of a back injury suffered by life prospective bridegroom, the marriage of Miss Margaret Ellen Trew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilkins Trew, Springs avenue, to Midshipman
Thomas L. Cline Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Cline, which was to have been solemnized
Wednesday at the Little Church Around The Corner, New York City, has been postponed.

Dr. Cline received word Sunday morning from Lieutenant Commander P. P. Gilmore, senior medical officer at Camp McDonough, Plattsburg, New York, that his son has received a serious back injury.
He has been put in a body cast and will be transferred to St. Albans Naval Hospital, New York. Dr. Gilmore said that a vertebra had been broken but that there were no complications. He did not reveal details of the accident.

Midshipman Cline was recently sent to Plattsburg from Muhlenberg college where he had completed a course of study. He had been scheduled to receive his commission as ensign at graduation exercises Tuesday.

Local Flier Prisoner Of War Of Nazis: Sergeant Charles B. Coffman,
20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A.
S. Coffman, Buford avenue, is a prisoner of war of the Germans, the parents were notified by telegram from the War Department on Sunday.

Sergeant Coffman, a nose gunner on a B-24, was a member of the crew of one of the big ships that was sent on a mission over the Ruhr Valley. While over the Ruhr, Coffman's bomber was badly damaged. One engine was shot away and a second put out of action by enemy fire. As the plane was attempting to head over the English channel to England, engine number three caught fire, and the crew bailed out,
the big ship crashing in France.

Today's Talk

GLORY IN THE FIELDS
Our many naturalists are our benefactors. They have opened up world after world to us. W. H.
Hudson and Henry D. Thoreau were forever in the open, observing and studying. Nothing in nature was too insignificant for them to note.

Some one called to see Wordsworth, the English poet and naturalist, wondering what sort of a study room he had. The maid invited the stranger in, and said:
"This is master's room, but he studies in the fields." Had you called on Thoreau you would have found him in the fields, not in his small cabin which he built himself for less than fifty dollars.

Had not Hudson gloried in the fields he never could have written such a book as "Green Mansions," or books like "A Traveler in Little Things," "A Hind in Richmond Park" and others. So truly was he a child of nature that he often imitated the calls of various birds who almost invited him to them as kin!

I was recently greatly thrilled by the visit of a beautiful cardinal bird that came to bathe in the small pool below my home library. The wonderful thing about the summer vacation period is that it takes out into the glory of the fields, and gets us acquainted with the ways of nature and all that she teaches. There isn't a place we go that we can't see new revelations—something for our memory book.

The greatest chemical laboratory in this world is the one over which we walk daily—the good earth. Plant any seed within it, and a miracle is performed! Think of the many varieties of foods that this chemical laboratory prepares for the health and strength of both man and beast. We have not fully learned the value of all that grows. Dr. George Washington Carver did wonders with the peanut and indeed with growths that many called mere weeds, but this great scientist contended that everything God created was for a purpose. I agree with Dr. Carver.

Just Folks

CONTRASTS
The birds and beasts seem with life content
In the grooves of instinct their days are spent.
Not one of them ever is known to send A gift of flowers to a sorrowing friend
Or think with others his food to share
Or turn to the Lord at night in prayer.
It is only civilized men, refined,
Who can be gracious and just and kind.

Wild creatures live as the good Lord meant.
They don't have guns, for they can't invent.
They don't make terrible things
to kill.
They don't drop bombs, and they never will.
They don't destroy what they've worked to build:
Churches and structures with splendors filled,
Leaving them shattered and all laid flat.
It is only civilized men do that.

Harvey J. Smith, gunner's mate

visitors will be permitted to touch

Plants which give off fragrance when stepped on will be placed on

PRESS FIGHTS PHOTO BAN IN SUPREME COURT

HARRISBURG (AP)—The right of privacy, in the opinion of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Assn., has no place in a Westmoreland County court ban against news photographers in the courthouse.

"We feel this is an important case and the Supreme Court must take all facts into consideration in making its decision," said Theodore A. Serrill, PNPA general manager.

The association filed a brief yesterday with the Supreme Court outlining its stand.

Case Argued
The appellate court presently is studying an appeal filed by both the PNPA and the Greensburg Tribune and Review newspapers.
The case was argued in Harrisburg last month.

Counsel for the Westmoreland County judges argued that the right of privacy was paramount in the lower court order forbidding photographs of John Wesley Wable, convicted slayer of a trucker on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. Wable was convicted last February.

The newspapers attacked the photo ban on the general grounds that it deprived them of the constitutional right of freedom of the press.

Submit New Brief
The new brief, submitted by Charles Kenworthy, PNPA council
secretary, said:

"We earnestly submit to the court that the right of an individual to privacy does not interfere with the right of newspapers to photograph newsworthy persons in connection with the reporting of events of public interest.

"Once a person becomes the subject of news, whether willingly or unwillingly, his right of privacy must yield to the paramount interest of the public in being fully informed of current events."

Kenworthy cited court decisions from other states and federal courts which he said provide ample precedent for his position.

Recent Study Cited
The attorney also pointed to a recent study by the American Institute of Law which reviewed laws of all the states on the subject and made this statement:

"One who unwillingly comes into the public eye because of his own fault, as in the case of a criminal, is subject to the same limitations upon his right to be let alone.
"Community custom achieves the same result with reference to one unjustly charged with crime or the subject of a striking catastrophe."

"Both groups of persons are the objects of legitimate public interest during a period of time after their conduct or misfortune has brought them to the public attention; until they have reverted to the lawful and unexciting life led by the great bulk of the community, they are subject to the privileges which publishers have to satisfy the curiosity of the public as to their leaders, heroes, villains and victims."

Truman's Condition Is Satisfactory

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The condition of former President Harry S.
Truman continues to be satisfactory, Dr. Wallace Graham, his personal physician, said today. Truman, 70, underwent an operation for removal of his gall bladder and appendix June 20.

Dr. Graham also said he wished there was an air conditioner in the hospital room, because the former chief executive was taking too much liquid. Kansas City had a record-breaking heat mark of 101 yesterday. A high of around 100 degrees was forecast for today.

Mrs. Truman again visited most of the day and last evening with her husband. "He appears to be somewhat stronger," she said when she left the hospital.

Get Cosmetic Effect By Tinting Braces

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—The brace and instrument shop in Duke hospital turns out artificial limbs and braces for more than 300 patients a month. It is one of the largest in the nation. The combination shoe shop, tannery, metal shop and factory can produce any kind of orthopedic appliance from an artificial toe to a skull plate.

It concentrates on the cosmetic aspect of making braces fit so that they are least noticeable, even to the extent of tinting plastics flesh color.

"The cosmetic effect is very important in keeping the patient from feeling a stigma because of his brace," explains Dr. J. Leonard Goldner, Duke orthopedic surgeon.

POLICE RAID AN ILLEGAL OPERATION MILL

PARIS, Va. (AP)—A police raiding squad swarmed into a farmhouse near this small community in northern Virginia's "Horse Country" late last night and discovered what they termed an "operation mill" that was "no kitchen-table type of thing."

A doctor, three other men and three women were arrested by state and Fauquier County officers, who said they found nine women patients or patients-to-be in the eight-room frame structure just off
State Route 17.

Sheriff Sam S. Hall Jr. and State
Police Capt. G. M. Williams said the physician, identified as Dr. G.
Thomas Strother, 54, of Brunswick, Md., was performing an operation on one of the women on a table in an upstairs bedroom when they entered the building.

Medical examinations early today disclosed five other women had undergone operations and three were waiting their turn, all of them from Washington, D. C., police said. None was identified.

Dr. Strother was charged with five counts of performing an operation a violation of Virginia law, and was released under $5,000
bond.

Police said a search of the house turned up $3,600 in cash—$1,200 on the person of Mrs. Ellen Grimes of Alexandria, Va., a good looking platinum blonde police said was the contact woman for the group.

Also arrested were the physician's wife, Mrs. Ruth Strother, 38, a striking blonde, and Mary

Boyer, 48, of Brunswick, Md., described by police as Dr. Strother's nursing assistants.

Allie Reynolds Shuts Out Tribe 11-0 In His Ninth Straight Win Of Season; Chisox Beat Boston

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

Allie Reynolds' reluctant decision to abandon his role as an oil tycoon with an aching back in favor of one more season of pitching looks more and more like the key move in the New York Yankees' drive for their sixth straight pennant.

The Big Chief from Oklahoma has been magnificent.

When he beat the first place Cleveland Indians 11-0 last night it marked his ninth straight victory after losing his first decision. The third place Yankees moved within three games of the Indians and the second place Chicago White Sox, who defeated Boston 6-4, climbed within one.

1st To Blank Indians

As late as opening day Allie was tabbed as a bullpen man. This lasted until May 2. Since then he's started 11 times, pitched four complete games and three shutouts. His earned run average of 2.46 is one of the best.

He's the first pitcher this season to blank the Indians, who got nine hits but couldn't bunch them. A fireball pitcher throughout his career Reynolds says he's switching more and more to a sidearm delivery.

Reynolds really didn't need a shutout. His mates clinched the contest in the third with seven runs.

Orioles Beat A's

Elsewhere on the majors' all-night schedule Washington edged Detroit 4-3 and Baltimore beat Philadelphia 5-1 in the American League. New York whipped Chicago 6-2. Brooklyn defeated St. Louis 5-1. Milwaukee whitewashed Philadelphia 7-0 and Cincinnati thumped Pittsburgh 8-4 in the National League.

Bob Keegan of the White Sox became the first American League pitcher to win 11 games as he tamed Boston on eight hits. One of the hits was a pinch home run by Ted Williams with a man aboard in the ninth.

Dean Stone and Camillo Pascual, a pair of rookies, pitched Washington to within a game of first division by beating fourth-place Detroit.

24th For Willie Mays

Baltimore scored four runs in the first inning against the Athletics, who had won 9 of their last 12. Duane Pillette, won his fifth game, a six-hitter, while the Birds battered three Philadelphia pitchers for 13 hits.

Willie Mays put the Giants on the victory train against the Cubs with a two-run inside-the-park homer in the second inning. It was his sixth home run in the last five games and his 24th of the year. Jim Neenan won his fifth straight.

Stan Musial came out of his slump with a home run and a single but it wasn't enough to beat Carl Erskine and the Dodgers.

Philadelphia managed only five hits off Lew Burdette and relinquished third place to Milwaukee. Bill Brunton drove in three runs. Eddie Mathews homered for the Braves.

Ted Kluszewski hit his 18th and 19th home runs in Cincinnati's victory over the last place Pirates.

Next Tuesday's Game

Moose vs. Lions, 6:15 p.m.

The Lions strengthened their hold on second place in the Little League standings by topping the Rotary 10-3 in a game played Friday evening.

Both teams scored in the second inning. Carl Johnson singled, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and came home on a infield miscue to score the Rotary's first run. In the bottom of the second the Lions tallied three times. Hull walked, Ahrens singled and Little hit a single that got by the right fielder and a pair of runs came in. H. Weikert then singled to score Little.

The Lions scored four more times in the third on clean hits by the first five men. A single by Kime, double by McCartney and consecutive singles by Hull, Hankey, and Ahrens accounted for the runs.

In the fourth the Rotary came up with a pair of runs when Codori singled. Kenworthy got on via a fielders' choice, and an infield error, and C Johnson's single followed.

Keith Johnson gave up three runs on four hits, a triple by Zhea and singles by Kime, McCartney and Hull, as the Lions put across security runs in the fourth. At this point of the game brother Carl came in to relieve Keith on the mound and put out he fire. Reliever Johnson got himself into a jam in the fifth by loading the bases, but forced the next man to pop out and fanned the other two batters.

C. Johnson led the Rotary Club by collecting a pair of safeties while six of the Lions contributed double hits to the cause.

Rich Weikert, who struck out 12 and walked two, is credited with the win. Keith Johnson, giving up 13 hits and being relieved by Carl Johnson in the fourth, received the loss.

PINK, WHITE CHURCHILL IS STAR OF SHOW

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—No matter how you look at it, "Winnie" stole the show.

After his arrival in Washington yesterday, Sir Winston Churchill was with such spotlight personalities as President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, Secretary of State Dulles and Britain's foreign secretary, Anthony Eden.

But at every turn, it was the 79-year-old, pink and white British prime minister who caught everyone's eye.

With typical Churchillian showmanship, he quickly captured the airport audience by stepping smartly into view from the British stratosphere, doffing his gray homburg and grinning merrily.

Winnie Talks First

This brought buzzsaws and applause. Once aground, Churchill steamed unerringly toward a cluster of microphones, leaving the welcoming Nixon and Dulles to bring up the rear. Once Churchill had had his say, he spun on Dulles and Nixon and barked: "Was it all right?"

They agreed—still clutching their own undelivered written statements. Then Sir Winston spied a waiting open car and made for it. There were no more speeches.

Churchill planted his round figure squarely in the middle of the wide rear seat. Nixon, however, managed to squeeze himself in to the left of the relaxed visitor.

Churchill then gave himself over to a swarm of photographers who clicked and flashed until they could no longer evoke the famed smile and "V for victory" salute.

Makes It Alone

Arrived at the White House, Churchill was offered a presidential assist up the steps of the north portico. Preferring his gold headed cane, the prime minister withdrew his elbow from President Eisenhower's helping hand and made it on his own.

Later, after preliminary talks and a White House luncheon, Churchill, Eisenhower, Dulles and Eden assembled in the rose garden on the south lawn to pose for more pictures.

Churchill and Eisenhower sat in a wrought iron canvas "cushioned love seat"—which may or may not have been symbolic of U.S.-British hopes for the outcome of their harmony meeting.

In the first inning the Elks scored three times on a single by Roth, double by Rohrbach, sacrifice fly by Carbaugh, single by Saunders, double by Kurtz and a sacrifice fly by Gorman.

The Vets took the lead with five tallies in the fifth, an error, singles by Fazenbaker and Buckley, double by Staub and walks to Grenier and Kebil, turning the trick. The Elks picked up a run in the sixth and went on to clinch the contest in the final frame.

League play will be suspended next week due to the field being occupied by the fire company for its annual festival.

Sensational 60 By Tom Bolt Friday

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—Excitement was in the air today as the $15,000 Insurance City Open Golf Tournament entered the third round with Tommy Bolt, the ex-club thrower, in front with 71-60—131.

The sensational 60 was fired by Bolt yesterday to equal the American 18-hole competitive record. Only four other 60s have been recorded in National Professional Golfers Assn. Tournaments.

The 36-year-old Shreveport, La., golfer shot 11 birdies in his 60 round over the par 35-36—71 Wethersfield Country Club's 6,561-yard course, and barely missed canning a 15-footer for an all-time 59 on the 18th hole.

Other 60s on the books belong to Bill Nary, Reno Nev.; Al Brosch, Cherry Valley, N. Y.; Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., and Wally Ulrich, Austin, Minn.

Because it will take time to recover after cutting out some old scar tissue around Bassett's right eye, he will be out of action for a few weeks. But he'll be ready for Saddler whenever the champ says the word.

Plans Ahead

"I think I'll win," said Bassett in his dressing room. "I'll fight him inside, I won't run. If he gets rough, I'll get rough too."

The small crowd, estimated at 2,500 paying $8,000 knows he can. He swarmed all over Perez, drove him against the ropes, scored with a long right to the head often and those deadly hooks to the body. In a mixup near Perez' corner, it looked like a butt opened the inch and a quarter gash over Lulu's left eye that required 12 stitches.

Bassett, a Philadelphian, weighed 126½, Perez 125½.

FUNDS NEEDED FOR STUDY OF 1ST OLYMPICS

By STERLING SLAPPEY

OLYMPIA, Greece (AP)—For the lack of a few million drachmas—a paltry sum when translated into dollars or pounds—modern sportsmen have only a partial idea of what went on here 3,000 years ago in this birthplace of athletics. (A drachma is .0033 cents.)

A collection of silt from the River Alpheus covers most of the world's first known sports field.

The Directorate of Excavations at the Greek Ministry of Education in Athens says: "We would like nothing so much as to see the removal of the silt and dirt and the uncovering of the entire ancient Greek site where the first recorded Olympic Games were held in 776 B.C."

A shortage of money is the reason the silt is still there.

Diggings Halted

Diggings into the historic shrine came to a halt last year. One end of the stadium site was uncovered. The area includes a small part of the running track, the javelin field and wrestling area.

Diggins showed that modern stadia have little the oldtimers did not have—including starting blocks for runners. The blocks at Olympia doubtless are the fanciest ever devised. They are marble.

Archaeologists believe the stadium held between 40,000 and 45,000 Greek men. In those days women were not allowed near the place, either as competitors or spectators.

Brought Bad Luck

Women brought bad luck, the ancients said.

Dirt embankments on the west, east and south held both sitting and standing spectators. The far side of one of the banks also served as a seating area for the equestrian stadium adjacent to the track and field area.

The stadium was about 234 yards long and only 35 yards wide. In the early days of Olympic Games the only activity was that involved in defense or war—such as running, jumping, spear throwing, boxing, wrestling and riding.

The running track was approximately 210 yards and in a long race a runner had to go back and forth several times.

A nearby gymnasium strictly an open air place—was used for practice and training.

Covered By Silt

The Hippodrome, in which chariot races and equestrian events were run, is less definitely defined. It is covered deeper by silt.

There are indications that Olympic Games began sooner than 776 B.C. But the first recorded winner was Korobos, a cook. He won a foot race. Dozens of events were added and subtracted over the years and always a truce was declared in whatever neighboring war happened to be going on when the games were held.

The whole idea faded in during 395 A.D. Barbarians invaded the valley and destroyed and plundered the athletic plant in the sacred grove of Altis. In the 5th Century A.D. the statue of Zeus was carried to Constantinople and the temple of Zeus, one of the seven wonders of the ancient world, was destroyed.

That was the last of the Olympics until 1896 when the first of

BASSETT BLASTS PEREZ, EYES SADDLER'S TOGA

NEW YORK (AP)—Percy Bassett is in line for an October shot at featherweight champion Sandy Saddler after his 11th round technical knockout over young Lulu Perez.

Bassett wore down the 21-year-old Brooklyn fancy dan with his heavy hooks to the body, dropped him for an automatic eight count in the 11th and cut his left eye in the eighth last night in Madison Square Garden.

Because it will take time to recover after cutting out some old scar tissue around Bassett's right eye, he will be out of action for a few weeks. But he'll be ready for Saddler whenever the champ says the word.

In a mixup near Perez' corner, it looked like a butt opened the inch and a quarter gash over Lulu's left eye that required 12 stitches.

Bassett, a Philadelphian, weighed 126½, Perez 125½.

Paper Discontinues Golf Tournament

NEW YORK (AP)—Metropolitan New York and New Jersey golfers who shoot holes-in-one no longer have an ace tournament in which they can try to outshoot each other. After 20 years the New York World Telegram and Sun has discontinued its golf promotion.

"The event has become just too large to handle," says the newspaper. Since last August, when a record 1,461 participated, 532 new entries were registered.

The odds for an ace in this tournament turned out to be 8,606 to 1. Since the event began in 1932, a total of 17,211 players have hit 86,055 iron shots on par 3 holes. Their efforts produced 10 aces.

Oddest hole-in-one in the event was Ernie Grauer's shot in 1952. It hit a fence behind the green and rebounded into the cup.

Schoendienst Is One Man Infield

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Red Schoendienst, second baseman of the Cardinals, made an unusual fielding play against the Cubs at Busch Stadium. He made an unassisted putout—at first base.

Red ran behind first baseman Tom Alston to field a ground ball hit by slow-footed Jo Garagiola, Chicago catcher. First base was uncovered so Schoendienst ran to first base and beat Garagiola to the bag for the out.

Montana Hunters Receive Notice

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Montana's regular 1954 big game season opens Oct. 15 for 30 days for certain areas.

Elk may be hunted in the Absaroka area Sept. 15-Nov. 15. Statewide drawings will be conducted on permits to hunt buffalo, mountain sheep, mountain goats, moose, elk, deer and antelope.

The modern word "fascist" derives from the Fascist regime in Italy which got its name from the fasces, bundles of rods used as symbols of authority in ancient Rome.

Arizona, Utah, New Mexico, Montana, Nevada and Michigan produce 97 per cent of the copper mined in the United States.

The modern games were held in Athens' new 50,000 seat marble stadium.

The games have never returned to the beautiful valley near the village of Olympia beneath the little hill called the Kronion. But there still must be millions of secrets under the silt just waiting for the archaeologist's whisk broom and trowel.

29th Annual Homecoming And Firemen's Carnival At Fairfield

Celebration Opens June 28 And Continues Through July 5; Many Special Attractions Every Day

Fairfield's 29th annual homecoming celebration and fireman's carnival will be held on the carnival grounds near the fire house from June 28 through July 5.

In addition to the "Old Home Week" atmosphere which annually brings back hundreds of former Fairfield residents and many visitors, there will be band concerts throughout the week, fun concessions of all sorts and numerous rides for both adults and children. There will also be a baseball game at Fairfield against New Windsor on July 5.

Special events are listed as follows: Monday, June 28, Rides and recorded music; Tuesday, June 29, Biglerville High School German Band; Wednesday, June 30, Emmitsburg Community Band; Thursday, July 1, Les Sanders String Band; Friday, July 2, Biglerville High School Band and fireworks display; Saturday, July 3, Fairfield High School Band and Kiddies' Parade; Monday, July 5, York High School Band and fireworks display.

Kiddies Parade Saturday
The Kiddies' Parade, always one of the highlights of the annual celebration, will begin at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, July 3, at the telephone exchange and continue to the carnival grounds. There will be ten prizes of one dollar each for the best costumed participants, and each youngster will receive a consolation prize. Mr. and Mrs. William Newman and Miss Helen McCleary are in charge of the parade arrangements.

Saturday evening, July 3, there will be a roast chicken and beef dinner, dessert included, on the carnival grounds. Serving will begin at 4 p.m.

The rides and concessions will be top attractions for residents and visitors. Last year members of the fire company had difficulty in lining up rides for the affair and built their own kiddie merry-go-round. It proved one of the hits of the celebration. There will be also the traditional ferris wheel, without which no carnival is complete, a kiddies' boat ride, and many others.

Midway Atmosphere
Games and food booths of all sorts will give the carnival grounds a real "midway" atmosphere. The visitor will be able to try his luck at almost every kind of skill and will have many chances to satisfy their interests. There will be sandwiches and soft drinks, taffy apples and popcorn and almost everything under the sun to tempt the palate.

Ike And Churchill Hit Tough One Today; What To Do About Halting Red Conquest In Asia

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill came to grips today with the hard core of present British-American difficulties: The critical issue of what to do about halting Communist conquest in Southeast Asia.

Diplomatic observers said it seemed possible that by the end of the Washington talks—slated to go on through this weekend and perhaps longer—the two heads of state might agree on some line of action. But there was no advance indication of what this course would be.

The U. S. position up to now has been that urgent measures are needed to form an anti-Communist alliance which would include Britain, the United States and other countries with direct security interests in Southeast Asia. Eisenhower presumably was prepared to urge Churchill to join in such an undertaking.

The British Position

The British position, most recently stated by Foreign Secretary Eden, is that a defensive alliance could be effective in the long run but that it should be paralleled by a system of non-aggression guarantees which would include Communist nations as well as others.

American officials have rebuffed the nonaggression pact idea as involving Communist commitments which could not be depended upon, and as a potential new obstacle in the way of progress on a real security system.

There was agreement in British and American thinking, it was understood, on the point that whatever plan is agreed upon should have maximum appeal to those countries which, like India and Indonesia, seek a kind of neutral position as between the Communist bloc and the Western powers.

Luncheon Today

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and Eden planned to start the second day's round of British-American talks today with a 10:30 a.m. EDT meeting at the State Department. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said that, while no specific hour was set, he assumed Churchill and Eisenhower would resume their discussions about the same time.

Today's schedule included, in addition to morning and afternoon meetings of Eisenhower, Churchill, Dulles and Eden, a luncheon at which the President arranged to bring together the British visitors and leaders from the U. S. Senate and House.

This luncheon, with about 30 persons attending, afforded the first opportunity for information about progress of the talks to be divulged to a gathering larger than the top-echelon handful which met yesterday in the presidential study and on the second floor of the White House. Twenty-six guests were invited to a White House dinner last night in honor of Churchill and Eden, but this was regarded as primarily a social affair.

Started Promptly

The White House talks got under way yesterday shortly after Churchill and Eden arrived here at midmorning, continued through a luncheon session at which there was a preliminary look at the world issues to be discussed and went on through an afternoon conference lasting about 2½ hours.

Hagerty said the afternoon conference was devoted to a discussion of European defenses, centering upon the long delayed creation of a European Defense Community, and covering also "the mechanics of further exchange of atomic information" between the U. S. and Britain. Hagerty's terse announcement gave no details of these discussions and did not say whether any understanding was reached.

The British leaders came prepared to discuss possible alternative means of strengthening Western Europe's defenses by arming West German forces if France does not soon approve the EDC. The EDC is a project under which six European nations, including both France and Germany, would join in an international army to defend Europe.

The U. S. Position

The American government's position at the moment is that it is not prepared to make a detailed study of alternatives for German rearmament until the Mendes-France government in Paris has had opportunity to bring up the EDC treaty at the present session of the French Assembly.

French Premier Mendes-France yesterday was reported to have told the United States he intends to press for an EDC vote in the Assembly soon. U. S. officials in turn were said to have assured Mendes-France they are not now exploring other means for German rearmament.

HARBOR BLAZE AT LOS ANGELES PERILS SHIPS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Blazing oil from exploded fuel tanks sent flames and black smoke towering over the harbor area today but firemen appeared to be gaining the upper hand against a million dollar blaze.

One worker was reported missing and two firemen were injured.

Since much of the fuel was destined for military use, the Navy and FBI immediately began checking the possibility of sabotage.

All port pilots remained on an alert for duty to move ships out of the harbor in the event the 20-foot firewall around the burning tank area of the Tidewater Associated Oil Co. should break. The area is about 500 by 1,000 feet, and 15 of 20 tanks in it were destroyed. Firemen estimated more than

Fire Victim Sees Brighter World

JARBALO, Kan. (AP) — Paul Schmutz, 12, lost his eyeglasses when fire destroyed his home.

Schoolmates raised $29.50 to buy him a new pair, but the doctor who fitted the glasses refused to take the money when he learned of the circumstances.

Paul's schoolmates didn't want the money back either. So they bought him other articles needed to replace those lost in the fire.

A fathom was originally the distance between the tips of a man's two middle fingers when his arms were outstretched, later standardized to six feet.

80,000 barrels of various fuels were consumed in the flames. The fire, of undetermined origin, started when a 55,000-barrel storage tank suddenly blew up, sending its lid about 250 feet into the air. The contents blazed immediately and the fire spread from tank to tank. Many of them exploded.

News Of Special Interest To The Automobile Owners Of Adams County

Better Gas Mileage Possible For Autos But Must Sacrifice Performance, Safety Features

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
It's a wise driver who knows that one head on his shoulder is enough.

working properly. Bringing the acceleration pump into action provides extra fuel which the engine demands when starting.

For Future Reference

From a reader I have picked up an idea for getting further life from a straight-through type of muffler that has become progressively noisy as a result of the perforation of the surrounding core being clogged with carbon. He causes after-firing in the exhaust, thus dislodging a lot of the carbon and allowing the perforations again to act as expansion holes for the expanding exhaust gases. Since this type muffler has no baffles no harm would result from a couple exhaust bungs. He gets the effect by switching off the ignition going downhill and then switching it on again.

This reader tells me the idea was offered him by one of the large service stations in New York City. Be sure to note that the trick never should be tried with any muffler that has a reverse passage or which is not strictly a simple straight-through type.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"We people who try to keep the country's car running are well aware that it is important to avoid extremes in service. That is why even the chap who does the greasing knows that he must be careful not to be too liberal with lubricants, especially with the pressure gun when he is greasing the water pump. Grease that gets into the cooling system is nothing to be desired.

"I was thinking of this, too, in connection with sand blasting spark plugs to clean them. Now and again some chap will borrow the blaster and try to clean the plugs of his car only to wind up by inviting a lot of trouble. Too much blasting may score the surface of the plug's insulator."

Too Rough On Tires

We hear a lot about the high cost of underinflation, but in our desire to prevent this sort of trouble we have to be careful not to run to the other extreme. Overinflation has some fancy penalties. One is the fact that the tire is then more susceptible to bruises. I remember when balloon tires first came into the picture and how they were shown to yield when hitting a stone. Too high pressure is also rough on the car itself. Then there is the greatly reduced traction in slippery weather. And if the tires are too "high" there will be excessive wear on the center of the treads.

Passing Them Along

After many years of use it is not unusual for an oil bath type oil filter to leak, due to corrosion. When this happens the filter won't hold oil and naturally won't protect.

In addition to clicking worn universal joints may be indicated by sharp squeaking when the car is being accelerated from low speed.

Now You Know Why

One of the most interesting things about automobiles is the way some of the simplest of facts are difficult for even the professionals to explain. Take the matter of the number of negative and positive plates in a storage battery. There is always one more negative than positive plate, but ask "why" and you'll invariably get "because" as an answer. Frankly, I looked it up, and the answer is that the extra negative plate provides for the uniform operation of the positive plates. Each end positive plate then has a negative plate on each side. The extra negative plate area also provides more material for best performance when the battery is discharging.

Knows His Psychology

A friend of mine who makes a silencing gadget for noisy engines tells me of one astute dealer who has apparently majored in psychology. This dealer goes to the expense of equipping each new car with the device even though he could easily make the change when, and if, a customer complained of too much tappet noise. The automobile man's point is interesting. Once a customer complains about engine noise, even if it is completely eliminated later on, the initial dissatisfaction lingers.

For Future Reference

If the windows do not move up and down easily because the channels for the glass need lubricant an easy way to grease them is to dissolve some paraffin in carbon tetrachloride (commonly used fabric cleaner). Apply this solution to the channels with a small brush. When the cleaner evaporates it leaves the paraffin well distributed.

Just Looking Ahead

That car ahead of the one just ahead of yours may be the sore spot in your safety program. You start to pass the car ahead, then suddenly its driver swings out to attempt passing the car ahead of him. Promptly you discover that some jalopy has been holding up the parade. You were trying to "read" the situation ahead but failed to anticipate enough for complete safety. A curve can sometimes be a handy guide here.

What's Your Trouble?

Q. I am having difficulty starting the engine when the weather is hot. J. L. F.

A. Try opening the throttle wider. In making a re-start with a hot engine open the throttle wide.

Refusal to Grant Right-of-Way Killed 2,400 in 1953.

Don't pump on the accelerator.

Q. After the car has been in operation for an hour or so, especially on the open road or on a hot day, the brakes do not seem to act normally. Have you any idea what would cause this? Wm. K.

A. I would check over the exhaust system. Escaping exhaust gas may overheat one of the brake lines and cause a change in the brake fluid.

Q. What would cause the brakes of my car to seem harder to operate than they did before? A friend of mine took the wheel and said that he would describe it as a feeling of a hard pedal. L. N. N.

A. That's just what the trade would call it. This usually indicates mechanical trouble at the individual brakes.

Q. I have been told that the large amount of sludge in the crankcase of the engine of my car is due to slow leakage of antifreeze into the oil during the winter. Do you think I should have the head gasket replaced? J.H.B.

A. I do not believe that there has been any such leakage in your case. Sludge is an emulsion of water, dirt, carbon, lead, etc. It is generally produced as a result of too many cold short runs in winter. The oil filter is powerless to prevent it.

Q. For some time there has been difficulty shifting between second and high. Unless I do it quickly there's a clashing. Don't seem to have trouble getting into low or shifting from low to second. So I would not think that the clutch is to blame. G.N.

A. I would have your mechanic check the synchronizer for the second gear.

Q. Should brake dust be left in

IGNORING USSR, UN COUNCIL TO DELAY ACTION ON GUATEMALA

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.

Ignoring Russian demands, the U. N. Security Council decided last night to delay action on the quickening Guatemalan war until the Organization of American States makes its own investigation.

The 11-nation Council declined to adopt an agenda listing Guatemala's complaint that Honduras and Nicaragua were still condoning the brake drums? One motorist tells me that the dust acts as an abrasive and is helpful in getting a better stop. J. N. MCB.

A. A little dust may be helpful, but in most cases there is far too much of it in the drums. When brakes are serviced mechanics remove all dust. One disadvantage is that if water gets into the brakes and mixes with the dust it forms a slippery concoction which lowers braking efficiency temporarily.

Q. When I am climbing a hill at lower speeds in high gear the engine of my car misfires. Have checked ignition carefully and also the valves. Everything seems to be quite normal. Had the carburetor rebuilt without any improvement. K. R. Jr.

A. I think that a compression test would show that one of the cylinders is way below par.

ing aggression in defiance of the Council's cease fire call of last Sunday.

The procedural motion for its adoption needed seven votes to pass. It got only four, while five votes were cast against it and two Council members abstained.

Postponed Debate

This postponed debate indefinitely and gave the 21-nation OAS time to investigate the Guatemalan charges through its five-member International Peace Committee.

Brazil and Columbia—with U.S. support—had proposed this course. But the Soviet Union, backing Communist-infiltrated Guatemala, had demanded "measures to put an end to aggression in Central America."

The vote found Russia, Denmark, Lebanon and New Zealand in favor of the Guatemalan agenda. The United States, Brazil, Columbia, Nationalist China and Turkey voted against it and Britain and France abstained.

Felt Premature

The Soviet Union also lost on a motion to invite Guatemalan Delegate Eduardo Castillo Arriola to the Council table. The other 10 members apparently feeling that the invitation to a nonmember would be premature, since no debate had begun, voted no.

The Inter-American Peace Committee, meeting in Washington, had set up a commission to investigate the Guatemalan situation Wednesday.

Lightning Bolt Upsets Mich. Radio Audience

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Announcer Tom Van Tol was giving a daily newscast over Radio Station WGRD. He was soothing jittery listeners that no tornado threatened the area.

"There is no tornado in this area," he was saying. "I repeat, don't worry, you are in no..." and at that point silence.

Lightning had hit the station's transmitter causing a power failure.

A half-hour later the listeners weren't the only nervous persons in Grand Rapids. WGRD's switchboard operators worked up a sweat explaining what happened.

75 ARE INJURED IN NEBRASKA TRAIN ACCIDENT

HALLAM, Neb. (AP)—The Rock Island's last eastbound Rocky Mountain Rocket "started to shimmy" and eight of its 11 passenger and Pullman cars tipped over in a derailment near here last night with at least 75 persons getting hospital treatment.

State Safety Patrol Chief Col. C. J. Sanders at Lincoln said his reports indicated that at least 16 or 18 persons were seriously injured.

Unofficial reports indicated about 150 passengers were on the train.

Engineer Roy Ensign of Fairbury, Neb., said "I don't know what happened. The train started to shimmy and all of a sudden I was thrown against the controls."

Col. Sanders said his men who rushed to the scene reported one car piled on top of another. The Sutton was arrested earlier after being accused of taking a $50 mining welfare fund check from the home of Joseph Zeigler, forging Zeigler's signature and cashing it.

Copductor W. O. Nielson of Omaha, riding in the head car, said "I went over easy," and passenger Mrs. Harold Segard, St. Louis, related "It (the car she was in) didn't hit hard. It slid like a log into water. I didn't expect it to be that easy."

Much Confusion

Mrs. Segard, who was not seriously hurt, related "my head struck against the overhead baggage rack —there was a lot of confusion and
